C. R. Schmitt's Fire Poster Idea Takes First Prize In Safety Department Contest

Chemistry Development Man Wins Deep-Fryer As Kathy Mills Wins Safe Gasoline Container

As an example of the fickleness of fate, the July safety poster contest saw a man take the deep-fat electric fryer and a woman cap the safety gasoline can! C. R. Schmitt, Chemistry Development, took first prize in the competition with his fine cartoon using the words FIRE. Kathy Mills, Production Control, took second prize in the fire prevention slogan race. Schmitt's slogan idea stated: Fuel . . . Ignition . . . Remorse . . . Embers.

Meanwhile, the Safety Department announces the contest has opened for the August race, featuring the theme "Winter Hazards and Holiday Safety." If Y-12ers can think of winter hazards during the blazing month of August, they may walk off with first prize which is appropriately a bedspread. Second prize in the contest will be an electric coffee kit, consisting of a small percolator, two cups and a kit to carry it all in.

Schmitt's idea on fire will be used for fire prevention posters throughout the plant during the month of October. August's winner will be used in the safety agenda for the month of November.

There will be only one contest left in the current schedule, the December contest which will be conducted next month.

16 Win Prizes

So far, 16 employees have taken fine prizes in the year's contest. These employees, plus members of the Safety Department, are ineligible for competing in the remaining contest. All other Y-12ers, plus members of their families, and any ORNL employee in the Y-12 Plant, may enter poster ideas.

Wording is not to exceed 10 words in the poster. The ideas must be submitted to the Safety Department, Room 152, Building 9704-2, and become their property. No entry may be returned to a competitor.

Deadline Is August 31

The deadline for this month's contest is 8 a.m., August 31. The winners will be announced in a subsequent issue of The Bulletin.

The Safety Department, meanwhile, stated that samples of safety awards for the 27th safe period are still not in, but will be announced as soon as possible. This period covers the days from April 18, through June 29, 1961, for 2,575,823 man-hours worked in the Y-12 Plant without a lost-time injury. The value of these awards will be the usual $2.

UCC Appoints Charpie To Development Post

Projects Will Include Solid States Physics

Assistant Director of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Robert A. Charpie, has been appointed manager of advanced developments for Union Carbide Corporation, it was announced by H. D. Kinsey, vice-president of the Corporation. He will be concerned primarily with the development of projects in areas such as solid states physics, electronics and nucleonics.

R. A. Charpie

Charpie joined Carbide in 1950, at Oak Ridge National Laboratory, operated by the corporation for the United States Atomic Energy Commission. He was named assistant director in 1955.

A member of the board of directors of the American Nuclear Society and secretary of the general advisory committee to the U. S. AEC, Charpie is a graduate of the Carnegie Institute of Technology with a BS degree, received in 1948. He was awarded his MS degree in 1949 and the doctorate degree in Theoretical Physics in 1950.

A ROSE IS A ROSE

In ancient Rome, a rose placed upon the dining table meant the guests were assured their conversations would not be repeated. Hence the expression "sub rosa."

CHOKING LUNCHES

More than 33,000,000 lunch boxes are packed each day. 728,000,000 pounds of peanuts go into peanut butter every year. Any connection?

Property Theft Has Serious Implications

May Threaten Security Of US Defense Efforts

Essential materials and equipment in the Y-12 Plant are property of the United States Government. The unauthorized removal, theft, misuse, disposition, or sabotage of government property have serious implications.

Theft of special material could very well involve sabotage. Any item of property in the Y-12 plant could contain special nuclear material, and thus be classified. Since all items of government property used in the plant are in connection with national defense, either directly or indirectly, its unauthorized removal has more than ordinary importance.

Salvage materials and scrap including lumber, pipe, plastic containers, paint buckets, small tools, and other items which have no further use in the plant may not be removed for any reason. Such items are processed by the Salvage Department only.

Property Sales, located near the Elza Gate, processes the sale of all surplus or scrap material. Y-12 employees desiring to purchase such materials should contact the Sales office.

Equipment May Be Inspected

Plant guards are authorized to inspect equipment, supplies, packages, lunch boxes, etc., before their removal from the plant.

Union Carbide and its employees are obligated to exercise appropriate control of government property used in connection with the operation of Y-12. In cases of theft or misuse of such property, strong administrative action, including possible discharge and prosecution under appropriate Federal law, may be expected.

It is the duty of each employee to report all violations or potential violations of Federal law, especially of the Atomic Energy Act and those pertaining to sabotage, espionage or theft or misuse of government property. No employee has the right to place his private judgment above the letter or spirit of security regulations.

It is essential to America's security that property relative to its defense be protected.

Coulomb Excitation Is ORNL Seminar Topic

NO, THE MARTIANS HAVEN'T LANDED! It's the 50-foot geodesic dome, designed for the Atomic Energy Commission's new exhibit, "Your Stake in the Atom," open to the public tonight through Saturday in the downtown area of Oak Ridge. The exhibit includes animated displays—and centers around a three-screen motion picture utilizing new movie techniques.

'Your Stake In Atom' Exhibit In Oak Ridge

A preview showing of the Atomic Energy Commission's new traveling exhibit, "Your Stake in the Atom," will begin in Oak Ridge today, August 9, beginning at 5 p.m. The exhibit will be housed in the wildly modern, geodesic dome in the downtown section. Thursday's hours will be from 12 noon until 8 p.m. Friday,

ORGDP Uranium Shipments Up 8% Over Last Year

The Oak Ridge Gaseous Diffusion Plant shipped a total of 152,996 pounds of uranium during the 12-month period ending June 30. This fuel was shipped to nuclear reactor sites.

These shipments during last year represent an 8.8 per cent increase over the 140,559 pounds sent out during the preceding fiscal year.

The material was shipped in the form of uranium hexafluoride, and went to commercial processing firms to prepare the uranium in the form for its eventual use. This represents the growing numbers of uses for peaceful applications for nuclear materials.

A LOT OF OLD GLORY

Believed to be the biggest United States flag in the world, the state of Michigan boasts a flag that measures 104 feet by 235 feet, weighing three-quarters of a ton. Each stripe is eight feet wide.

August 11, the display will be open from 12 noon until 10 p.m. On Saturday, August 12, the exhibit will be shown from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m.

The presentation will make its official debut at Gaithersburg, Md., August 21, at the Montgomery County Fair. Following a week's showing there, it will begin an extended tour of North Carolina and Michigan, under the joint sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the National University Extension Association.

The new unit, which was designed and constructed by the Museum Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, represents a striking departure from previous AEC exhibits. New colorful, animated displays have been prepared to tell the story of atomic energy progress. These displays are built around a central spectacular feature—a three-screen motion picture utilizing a new movie technique.

The Exhibitome is a portable plastic structure suspended from an aluminum skeleton. Inside the dome will be 100 feet of display panels and exhibits, all animated and many designed for audience participation. Along with the three-screen motion picture, demonstration lectures will be given periodically by trained exhibits managers.

"Your Stake in the Atom" was prepared to present a community-wide program on atomic energy. A lecture demonstration using special equipment and traveling in its own panel truck, will accompany the Exhibitome and will present special programs in schools in the area in which the exhibit is showing.

AEC Changes Method Of Payments To City

The United States Atomic Energy Commission has revised its methods for paying assistance to Oak Ridge. During the fiscal year ending June 30, payments were made on a monthly basis. However, payments now will be made on a quarterly basis, and the July check was the first of four payments which will be made during the current fiscal year.

The AEC made a payment of $123,874 to the City of Oak Ridge, as is required by law, during the city's first 10 years of operation.

DORNAN-RICE

The marriage of Miss Mary Nell Rice to Mr. Lyle E. Dornan was solemnized at 3 p.m., Sunday, July 16, at the Glenwood Baptist Church, Oak Ridge. The Rev. Richard R. Smith, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Rice, 115 Georgia Ave., Oak Ridge, where her father is employed in Y-12's Product Processing. She was given in marriage by her father.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom D. Campbell, 4530 Nicholas Dr., Knoxville. He is a graduate of Oak Ridge High School, and the University of Tennessee.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white satin gown with a V neckline. Her bouquet was a white Bible adorned with blue orchids and carnation streamers.

Mrs. Lucille Hudson, sister of the bride, was her matron-of-honor. Other attendants were Misses Jane McCowan, Jackie McInteyer, and Emily Sue Graves. They wore dresses of mint green, and carried yellow carnations.

Jack McNeal, Oak Ridge, was the groom's best man. Other attendants for the groom were Jim Hels, Robert Gross and Eric Fuller.

A reception honored the couple shortly after the ceremony at the church.

The couple is at home at 221 West Tennessee Ave., Oak Ridge.

THE BIG SEND-OFF given Mrs. Pauline Cain on her retirement is partly shown as fellow workers in the Janitors Department gathered to pay their respects to the retiring Mrs. Cain. They presented her with a giant floor fan and a cash gift.

The huge cake was enjoyed by all present. Willie B. Smith, also of the Janitors Department, paid tribute to the retiree, and R. W. Hayes was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Rains Allow Only 5 Tilts In Slo Pitch

Slo Pitch League action ground to a halt last week as the rains came again! Only five games were played all Tuesday night of last week. Thursday's games were all cancelled due to the mist-like rain and muddy fields.

At Pinewood Tuesday, Y-12's hapless Blue Demons dropped a twin-bill, one to the Codgers from the Oak Ridge Gaseous Diffusion Plant, 24 to 4, and one to fellow Y-12ers, the Tabs, 19 to 16.

In the Tabs game Bill Holbert connected with a homer, and picked up two doubles becoming the "heavy man" with the bat for the night. For the winners Hill tripled, and Moon and Loveless gained doubles. The losing Blue Demons saw Pack take up a triple, Sayne two doubles, and Smith one.

Blue Demons	19	19	10
Blue Demons	16	18	6

Batteries: Tabs: Ryder and Holbert. Blue Demons: Picca and Smith.

The Codgers took the Blue Demons apart 24 to 4, as Whittlesey came through with three homers for the winners, and Archer with one. Rutherford

Wright, and Edwards doubled for the winners, with Rutherford helping his own cause with a double also. None of the three hits off the arm of the powerful Peon was a multiple-based affair.

The Kentucky Wonder team took the Red Devils 15 to 0. Bolinsky had two homers for the winners, and a triple along with S. Harris, Block, Way (with two) and Owen were the double-men of the night. For the losers, it was West with a double.

Registration For Gatlinburg Tourney Is Altered; Will Be By Drawings

20 Carts Available For First Foursomes; Preferred Times Can Be Taken Immediately

Registration in the Gatlinburg Golf Tournament for Y-12ers has been altered, and may be done immediately. The tournament, to be held on the Smokies greens, Saturday, August 26, has always proved popular among linksmen in this area. The rolling 72-par course will provide electric carts for the first 10 foursomes teeing-off between the hours of 7 and 8:03 a.m.

PROOF OF THE PUDDIN' of Bill Hamill, removing the ball from that hole-in-one he got down on the Harriman greens last month. The eighth hole, on which the impossible was accomplished, is not even visible from the tee. The ball was hit with a number one wood. (Editor's Note: The above picture is run mainly because the one run in the July 12 Bulletin was a FAKE!)

Both carts and tee-offs will be done by drawings for this tournament. Golfers wishing to participate in the tournament may either call the Recreation Office, telephone 7109, or request that an entry be mailed to them.

Cart Drawing Tuesday

Drawings for the carts will take place at 10 a. m. Tuesday, August 15. In calling Recreation, the golfer will indicate the first time preferred, and either earlier or later than that time, in case his first choice is not drawn. He should also indicate whether his foursome wishes to be in the cart-drawing.

Drawings for other tee-offs after 8:03 a.m. will be held at 10 a.m., Friday, August 18.

No tee-off times will be assigned from the Recreation Office, at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, August 17, as previously announced.

Tee-Offs Every 7 Minutes. The tee-off times provided by the Gatlinburg Country Club include from the hours of 7 a.m. until 11, and will be assigned every seven minutes.

Dead-line for entering for the cart competition will be 4:30 p.m., Monday, August 14. For non-cart drawing the dead-line will be Thursday, August 17. Notification of tee-off times will be mailed to the person registering for the foursomes.

Hines, Hopkins Low In Ridge

Hines-Emlet Duo Need Only 1-Point Clincher

If the Art Hines-John Emlet duo in the Oak Ridge Golf League had won one more point in last week's green play, they would have clinched the title for this year. But they only took five points from the Brown-Roberts team. Six point wins were taken by Dehoney-Knowles over Smith-Bartholomew; Boyd-Oliphant over Hackett-Townsend; Belvin-Hopkins over Underwood-Earley; and Crow-Breman over Gregory-Kurtz. Other five-point wins were marked by Mee-McLendon over Stroud-Ebert; and Mitchell-Tibbatts over Ratjen-Hoppe. Four-pointers were taken by Peterson-Presley from Andrews-Turner and Holzknicht-Peckman over Crone-Douglass.

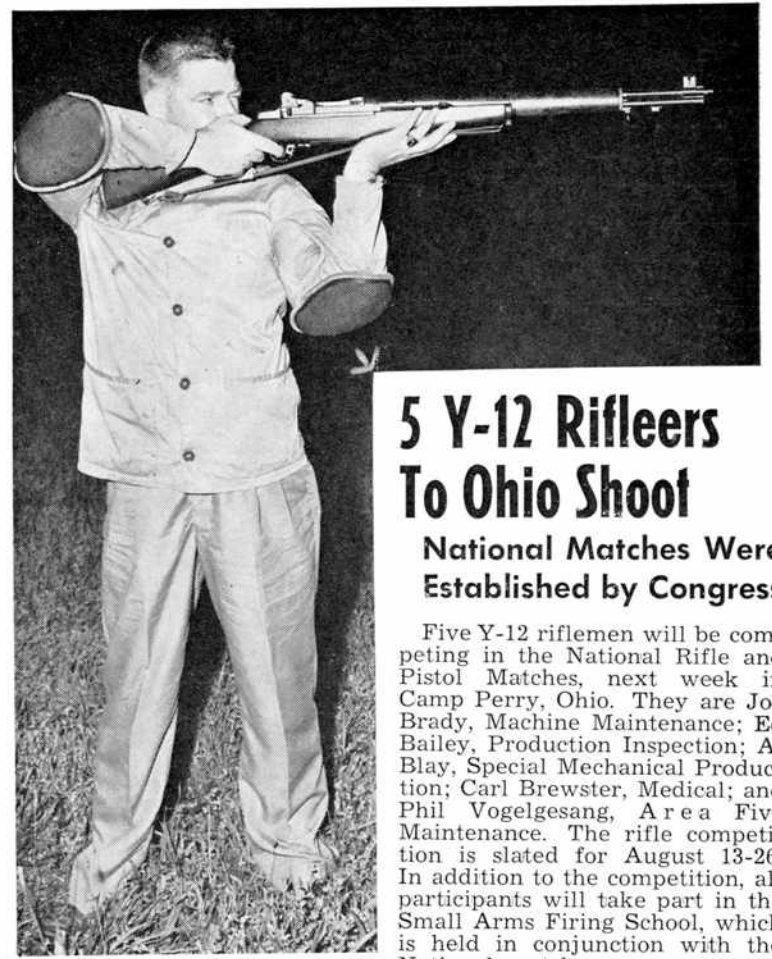

Art Hine's 38 was low scratch of the week; while Clyde Hopkins took handicap lows with his fine 33.

5 Y-12 Rifleers To Ohio Shoot

National Matches Were Established by Congress

Five Y-12 rifle men will be competing in the National Rifle and Pistol Matches, next week in Camp Perry, Ohio. They are Joe Brady, Machine Maintenance; Ed Bailey, Production Inspection; Al Blay, Special Mechanical Production; Carl Brewster, Medical; and Phil Vogelgesang, Area Five Maintenance. The rifle competition is slated for August 13-26. In addition to the competition, all participants will take part in the Small Arms Firing School, which is held in conjunction with the National matches.

These matches are supported by a direct Congressional appropriation as a part of national defense efforts. Team members emphasize the consistency with the remarks on civilian preparedness recently made by President Kennedy.

Established By Congress

The National Matches were established by an Act of Congress in 1903. The first matches were limited to teams from the regular services branches and members of the national guard units. In 1916, the National Defense Act, allowed civilian participation in the matches.

The National Matches are conducted with the approval of the Secretary of the Army, under the general supervision of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice.

Service Teams Enter

The armed services place considerable emphasis on competitive shooting as an important part of marksmanship training, and a large number of service teams enter the matches. Although some civilian awards are given, the state civilian teams and the individuals will compete against all entries.

All five of the Y-12ers participating in the national meet are active in the rifle league in the plant.

Perry, Phillips Tie Low H'Cap

The Whittles League for Y-12 golfers went into its 15th week with Phillips-Leach, league-leaders taking three full points from Hendrix-Parker. Spradlin-Clabough took three the easy way by forfeit. Two points were taken by Morgan-Campbell over Kovach-Marrow. The George-Newman, Ball-Emery duel ended in a draw.

J. W. Phillips was low scratchman of the week with 36, and tied Tom Perry for low handicap. They each had 33.

PROUDLY DISPLAYING the hundred-year-old document, written shortly after the Battle of Bull Run, sometimes called First Manassas, is Martin Medved, Process Analysis. The original poem, in perfect condition, was found pressed in an old book. Its worth is unknown.

Marty Medved Uncovers First Manassas Document

One hundred years ago, one of the most important battles of the Civil War was fought near Manassas Junction, Virginia . . . the First Battle of Bull Run. The federal forces were completely routed and fled in panic back to Washington, D. C. Feeling ran high throughout the entire Confederacy. It was felt that this was the psychological advantage the southern states needed to gain foreign allies.

The battle began Sunday, July 21, 1861, and was recently re-enacted on the rolling plains outside Washington as the nation observes the Centennial of the great war.

Martin D. Medved, in Y-12's Process Analysis Department, recently came up with an original edition of a poem published shortly after the First Manassas struggle. Published in Nashville, Tenn., in 1861, the narrative of the fight and conclusions drawn therefrom, reflect the optimism with which the South had become enthralled. The poet writes under the name "Gladius," which was probably a pen name.

Published under the name of the J. O. Griffith and Company, Printers, the publication bears the clear publishing date of 1861. Remarkably preserved the 12-page poem describes the picnic food left by the fleeing "Yankees" . . . beef steak, coffee, ham, and rice, chicken pie, good oyster soup, and splendid fish . . . and dessert fine in every dish.

Found In Old Book

Medved reports he came about the poem after it was found in an old volume owned by his father-in-law. Believed to be possibly the only copy extant of the edition, the epic glows with hope for (Mildred says maybe when they get back, it may be determined where they went and what they did) . . . It seems Red Morgan needs a little instructions on rowing these days. He and a friend were fishing recently when a rain storm came up. In a hurry to get back to shore, they both paddled from the same side of the boat, and naturally it cap-sized . . . Beta Four sends sincere sympathy to E. R. Watkins, whose father died in Knoxville, July 29.

Driving to Knoxville the other day, a motorist stopped to let a pedestrian cross the street. The pedestrian fainted . . . the driver was held for knocking him down. Just goes to show you, it doesn't pay to be nice . . . not that nice, anyway!

the new-born nation. It took later battles to crimp the high feelings and hopes for the South.

Pleading for peace, the poem states:

"Let us alone, we ask no more;
Move off our soil and from our shore;

Our Independence recognize,
And then we'll know you're acting wise;

And let your hostile movements cease,
And in the future live in peace.

But if to reason you won't yield,
We'll meet you on the battle field;

Upon Manassas' bloody plain
And try our fortune there again;

Or any place that you may choose,
To fight you there we'll not refuse;

For we're determined to be free,
And fight for Home and Liberty!"

Medved says he is trying to get the publication evaluated with the possibility of selling it in the future to some collector. He expressed regret in not placing it early enough to have it in on the Centennial observations in Virginia last month.
